[NOVEMBER, MDCCLXXII.] [NUMB. 364.]

THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1772.

The SPEECH of his Excellency the Right Honourable Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Captain-General, Governor in Chief, &c. in and over his Majeſty's Province of South-Carolina, to the General Aſſembly of the ſaid Province, at Charles-Town, on Tueſday, November 10, 1772.

Honourable Gentlemen,

Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly,

AT my firſt Meeting of this General Aſſembly, I manifeſted my Deſire to benefit this Province, by ſpeaking to you in an open and candid Manner, I made every Advance to induce a good Underſtanding between us, and to prevail with you to adminiſter, as far as might be in your Power, the moſt immediate Relief to the long diſtreſſed Situation of our Public Affairs.

I fairly explained to you the Cauſes of all our Diſtreſſes, I warned you againſt the Danger of innovating upon the Conſtitution of your Country: But, to my Concern, I find, I ſpoke to ſome Men, who would not attend to the Advice I then gave; which, had it been followed, might have, ere this Time, in a Manner, wholly remedied the Political Diſorders of this Country.

Inſtead of annihilating former Innovations upon the Conſtitution, the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly have proceeded to make other Innovations. It is my ardent Wiſh that I could, with Propriety, ſuffer this General Aſſembly to exiſt for a longer Time, but the Proceedings of the Commons Houſe make an immediate Diſſolution abſolutely neceſſary.

It is highly proper for me to obſerve to you, that the Commander in Chief of this Province has a Right, at all Times, to inſpect the Journals of the General Aſſembly:—And, I am ſorry that I muſt Charge the preſent Speaker of the Commons Houſe, with having acted in an unprecedented Manner: It ſeems then that the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly having upon their Journals a Report of a violent and unconſtitutional Nature, the Speaker took the Journals into his Poſſeſſion; and, although I wrote to him to demand them, I could not procure them until the next Day, and then only a very ſhort Space of Time before the Meeting of the Houſe. Is it in ſuch a Manner that violent Meaſures in a Commons Houſe of Aſſembly are to be concealed from a Governor, until almoſt the Moment of their being to be carried into Execution?

To check ſuch a Behaviour, as well as to furniſh the Commons with another Opportunity to read a Tax Bill, de novo, thereby that they might have more Time to think of forming it in ſuch a Manner as, from long Experience, they might have known, could only render it capable of doing Good to the People, I did at our laſt Meeting prorogue you to this Day; deſigning then to ſuffer you to ſit for the Diſpatch of Buſineſs.

But having peruſed the Journals of the Commons Houſe of that Day on which the laſt Prorogation took Effect, I find that after they had received my Commands then immediately to attend me, they did continue to ſit, to put a Queſtion, and to form Reſolves and Orders.

A Behaviour which, as it is unprecedented in the Parliamentary Proceedings, ſo it is of a moſt dangerous Tendency, being a Proof of their Contempt of the King's Prerogative, which is a Part of the Law of the Land. Being at the Head of this General Aſſembly, I cannot ſuffer ſuch a Proceeding to paſs with Impunity.

I ſhall part with this Commons Houſe of Aſſembly with the leſs Reluctance, becauſe they ſeem wanting in Juſtice to their Conſtituents, whom they endeavour to delude, pretending to ſerve them by a Meaſure which, from Experience, and even from the Information of their Agent, they know has not even a Chance of procuring Relief to the diſtreſſed Public: Unprofitably ſpending their Time in impugning that Exerciſe of the Prerogative, which the uninterrupted Silence of the Houſe of Commons has confeſſed to be conſtitutional: Wantonly ſhewing how little they regard the Laws of Parliament, by their innovating upon them, acting in ſuch a Manner as is unknown in Parliamentary Proceedings, from which it is my Duty, if poſſible, not to permit any Deviation, and I will be ſure not to give Encouragement for any, by acting with unſeaſonable Lenity on my Part, I DO THEREFORE DISSOLVE this General Aſſembly, and it is accordingly diſſolved.

C. G. MONTAGU.

LONDON, AUGUST 22.

Extract of a letter from Stockholm, July 31.

"THE States have reſolved upon a loan of two millions of rix-dollars, at four and a half per cent. the whole ſum is to be borrowed only in the country itſelf, in order that the intereſt of it may not go out of the Swediſh dominions; but as money is very ſcarce in that country, and as more than ſix per cent. is made of it in that kingdom, the following ſcheme has been laid before the States by Monſieur Geſtrin, who publiſhed his ſcheme in one of the public news-papers: 1. All the plate uſed in the churches, and all public offices, is to be brought to the bank, for which the owners are to be paid yearly four and a half per cent. 2. No gentleman is to have for his uſe more plates than knives, forks, ſpoons, and three ſilver candleſticks; all the reſt he is to deliver to the ſaid bank at the ſaid rate of four and a half per cent. 3. The Eaſt-India company are to pay the duty of 75,000 dollars on the return of each India ſhip, in ſpecie or bullion, at the rate of ſixty marks fine ſilver, and they are to have a demand upon the crown of 90 marks for it, at the loweſt rate or courſe of exchange, at the time of their delivering ſuch dollars in ſpecie or bullion. 4. It is to be notified to the Jews, that they ſhall be tolerated, and have their public divine ſervice and ſynagouges in all the following cities of commerce: Stockholm, Gothenberg, Norrkioeping, Charlſcron, Abo, Malmæ, and Geſle; that is to ſay, upon condition of their paying a certain ſum of money, or each individual Jew is to place the fourth part of his riches in the ſaid bank, at the ſaid rate of four and a half per cent.---The author of this ſcheme obſerves, that the Swediſh kingdom is ſo much behind hand in every branch of trade, chiefly becauſe they will not allow the Jews to reſide in their country; and adds, that the Jews are ſo ſkilful in the different branches of commerce, that they enrich every country where they are to reſide in ſafety, as Mr. Voltaire ſays, on ſent de ſuis eſt de l'argent; that if his ſcheme be adopted in all its points, the States of Sweden will be enabled to pay off this intended loan in leſs than ten years."

The corporations of Glaſgow, Dumbarton, Ayre, Roſea, Campheltown, and Stranraer, have petitioned the Admiralty to have a ſhip of war ſtationed in the Firth of Clyde.

AUGUST 24. On Saturday evening ſome diſpatches arrived from Sir John Goodricke, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the Court of Stockholm; among which is ſaid to be a copy of a treaty lately concluded between France and his Swediſh Majeſty.

Extract of a letter from Warſaw, Auguſt 3.

"Though this city is ſurrounded by ſeveral regiments of Ruſſian troops, we enjoy the moſt profound quiet. It is computed that the line of troops which now ſurrounds this capital conſiſts of 30,000 men, ſo that the confederates cannot form even the moſt ſlender hopes of ſucceſs by oppoſition. The commiſſioners of the King's treaſury have publiſhed an ordinance, commanding all ſuch provinces of the kingdom as are not in the poſſeſſion of the foreign troops, to pay their taxes and impoſts into the King's treaſury immediately, without paying any regard to the commands of any other power."

Extract of a letter from Milan, July 29.

"The experiment lately made upon two mad perſons from the hoſpital of St. Vincent happily ſucceeded in one of them. After having been taken out of the water, rubbed, and let blood, he was ſeized with a fever, which at length became pretty violent; but it is now abated, and the patient has recovered his ſenſes. His cure is attributed to the fright at being thrown into the water unawares, and perhaps to the force of the fever, which having put his whole machine in motion, changed the courſe of the animal ſpirits, and produced the looked-for effect."

Extract of a letter from Paris, Auguſt 10.

"Mr. Walſh, a member of the Engliſh parliament, is gone to Rochelle to examine the fiſh called the Torpille (or Crampfiſh) which has the property of benumbing perſons who touch it. He finds that this fiſh is endowed with an extraordinary electrical power, which he has meaſured with the electrometer, and compared with the electricity of all the known bodies. He placed nine perſons a-breaſt upon a braſs wire (laid under their feet) each having his hands in a baſon of water: With the end of this wire he touched the fiſh, which was ſwimming in a tub of water, and immediately each perſon felt a ſhock as great as in the experiment of Leyden. This gentleman has made ſome other experiments upon this fiſh, worthy the attention of Phyſicians and Philoſophers."

Extract of a letter from Goſport, Auguſt 20.

"Two perſons have attended at the dock-yard by a board order, with two different chemical preparations for preſerving the bottoms of ſhips from being deſtroyed by worms: The experiment was tried this week on the bottom of the Diligence ſloop of war going to Antigua: One ſide of her bottom is painted with a black, and the other with a white mixture."

AUGUST 25. Yeſterday at noon ſome important diſpatches arrived at the Secretary of States office from John Blaquiere, Eſq; who is charged with the affairs of this court, at the court of France, till the arrival of another Ambaſſador, in the room of the Earl of Harcourt.

Saturday the Earl of Loudoun ſet out from his houſe at Whitehall, for his ſeat in Scotland, for the remaining part of the ſummer.

Lord Hillſborough is not gone to Ireland as reported; he is at a little place which he calls Hill-park, in Surry.

His Majeſty has appointed Henry Haſſard, Eſq; to be Captain of a troop in the firſt regiment of dragoons, in the room of Edward Coleman, Eſq; promoted; and George Leathes, Eſq; is appointed a Captain Lieutenant in the ſaid regiment, in the room of Henry Haſſard.

Lord North's plan for reducing the prices of ſeveral important articles of life, which was ſo much ſpoken of ſome months ago, it is reported, is now entirely digeſted, and will be brought under the conſideration of parliament early in the enſuing ſeſſion.

They write from Hanover, that two ſtudents in that capital having had a quarrel, which ended in a duel, in which one of them was killed, the regency have ſince made a law, that, for the future, duelling ſhall be puniſhed with death.

They write from Minorca, that a French man of war of 60 guns, called the Terpſichore, put into the harbour at Mahon in diſtreſs the fourth of July laſt, having loſt all her maſts in the Streights of Gibraltar by a violent ſtorm; but that none of her officers or men were admitted into the King's yard there, or even the liberty of lying on ſhore at night.

Orders are given for two ſloops of war to be ſtationed on a cruize off Baſque road, to watch the motions of ſome men of war, which it is reported have been victualled there, and are taking troops on board.

John Wilkes, Eſq; our patriotic alderman, is now at Lymington, and has been received there, and all the places which he has viſited in his late tour to the weſt of England, with the greateſt marks of politeneſs by the gentry, and with the utmoſt demonſtrations of joy and affection by the populace.

Letters from Plymouth, and ſeveral parts of Dorſetſhire, Devonſhire, and Cornwall, mention, that there is likely to be the fineſt harveſt this ſeaſon, that has been known in thoſe places in the memory of man.

"On Monday the 17th inſtant, the foundation ſtone of the new bridge over the river Wear, belonging to the Hon. the Dean and Chapter of Durham, was laid: The antient and honourable fraternity of free and accepted maſons, belonging to that lodge, aſſiſted by ſeveral worthy brethren from the two lodges of Sunderland, made a very grand proceſſion from the lodge to the place appointed for the ſtone to be laid, where they were met by the Hon. and Rev. Spencer Cowper, D. D. Dean of Durham, with ſome of the Prebends, and ſeveral other Gentlemen, when the ſtone was laid in due form, and a plate with an inſcription depoſited under it; after which the Brethren proceeded, amidſt a great and numerous concourſe of people, to the meeting, where they were entertained with an excellent ſermon, preached by the Rev. Mr. Hart, from Micah vi. 8."

The following is an account of one among many of the terrible ſtorms which have fallen on the continent this ſummer.-----The 19th of July; between ſix and ſeven in the evening, a violent ſtorm fell at Wolfenbuttel, in Germany. Though it continued not above a quarter of an hour, it entirely deſtroyed all the hopes they had of a happy harveſt. Before it fell, there was a noiſe in the air not unlike that of ſeveral carriages running on a pavement; this was followed by a ſhower of hail, the ſmalleſt ſtones of which were as large as pidgeons eggs, and moſt numbers as big as hens eggs. Many were picked up which weighed above a pound, and at a village near that place, ſeveral large pieces of ice were found, one of which was as large as the palm of a man's hand. After it was over, there aroſe from the earth a moſt ſtrong vapour like a cloud, which was ſuppoſed to be occaſioned by their having before had a long exceſſive drought, and a great degree of heat. About nine the ſame evening a like cloud aroſe, with a ſimilar noiſe in the air, but it took the way of Brunſwick, and did not fall there.

Let who will be appointed Superviſors to correct the preſent nefarious practices in India, the Governor of Bengal, Mr. Haſtings, will be one; a gentleman of ſuch univerſal excellent character as to be approved of by all parties, as a very proper perſon to be entruſted with ſo important a commiſſion.

A certain newly-appointed Miniſter and his M------y have had a conference on maſquerades, and it is ſaid a prohibition of them throughout the kingdom will certainly take place.

Yeſterday the Royal regiment of Artillery were reviewed on Blackheath. As ſoon as his Majeſty appeared on the field, he was ſaluted by the cannon. The men then proceeded to go through the manual exerciſe; but, on account of the wet, they were obliged to omit ſeveral of the new manœuvres. Before they began to uſe the field pieces, the morning cleared up, and proved very cool, and favourable to the officers and men. They carried on a very brisk cannonade for ſome time, which produced an agreeable effect. The mock engagement afforded a very pleaſing entertainment to the ſpectators. It repreſented a real action, with a cloſe and ſmart fire of cannon, and running fire with the ſmall arms. The battalion who were victors, after having cauſed the ſuppoſed enemy to quit the field, made themſelves maſters of their cannon, ammunition, &c. Their Royal Highneſſes the Prince of Wales, the Biſhop of Oſnaburg, the Duke of Glouceſter, many of the foreign Ambaſſadors, with ſeveral of the Engliſh and foreign Nobility, were preſent. His Majeſty was in the booth exactly at a quarter paſt nine o'clock, and the whole concluded at a quarter paſt eleven. To have ſeen the concourſe of people preſent, who continued going from a little paſt four in the morning till ten, a perſon would have imagined London muſt have been drained of its inhabitants. At half paſt eight a very ſevere ſhower of rain fell at Deptford, and the ſcene it afforded was better than the review; ſeveral Macaronies in whiſkies, and on horſeback, looked dejected, as they had taken ſome pains to appear agreeable on the field; ſome few charitable perſons let drop a tear of pity on ſeeing ſeveral females, mounted on long-tailed prancers, as wet as a toaſt in a tankard. When his Majeſty left the field, the confuſion it occaſioned was incredible. The inhabitants of Blackheath and Deptford enjoyed the fun; for at one view were to be ſeen Ambaſſadors, Dukes, Lords, Gentlemen, Beggars, Chimney-ſweepers, and Thieves; and this motley group were for upwards of four hours continually paſſing. Notwithſtanding the innumerable collection of ſpectators, and the furious manner of returning, we hear of no material accident happening.

On Friday laſt Ambroſe Goddard, Eſq; to the honour of the independent freeholders of the county of Wilts, was declared duly elected Knight of the Shire by a majority of 812 votes, in ſpite of all the efforts of corruption, ſlander, and unconſtitutional influence.

"Our artificers in the dock-yard are very buſy in keeping the ſhipping in proper order, to be ready on any emergency (as uſual, 39 when Lord Sandwich is at the head of the board.)

"On Thurſday laſt at Wickham, ten miles from hence, and in ſeveral other villages, but particularly at the former, they had the moſt dreadful ſtorm of thunder, lightening, and large hail ſtones, that they have ever remembered; and at this place not one drop of rain fell, nor did we ſo much as hear the thunder, but all ſerene."

AUGUST 26. Two old Viſionaries have lately appeared at Carrickfergus, in Ireland, who ſay---the war will be general in 1773---Conſtantinople deſtroyed in 1774----the true God acknowledged by all nations in 1775---a valiant man give his teſtimony to it in 1776---England overflowed in 1777---an earthquake all over the world in 1778---the fall of the ſun, moon, and ſtars in 1779---the globe of the earth burned in 1780---and the univerſal judgement in 1781.

Extract of a letter from Saxe-Gotha.

"One John-Nicholas Goldſmith, who followed the occupation of a cowherd, at a ſmall village called Eichelborn, near Birka, by his own confeſſion, on the day of his execution, had killed ſeveral young lads, and for no other reaſon but to gratify his unnatural and inhuman paſſion for eating human fleſh. He had, for this purpoſe, a cottage, not far diſtant from the above-mentioned village; near to his houſe he had a cave, in which he depoſited the bodies of ſuch lads as he had murdered from time to time; here he cooked, and here he feaſted upon them. But another cowherdſman who lived near, ſeeing him inceſſantly going backwards and forwards, and always with a little bundle in his hand, had at laſt the curioſity to watch his neighbour to the cave of death, where he ſaw this wretch of wretches carefully lay the leg and thigh of a newly murdered lad down upon a ſtone, and then pickle it with ſalt. Shocked at this inhuman ſcene, the man inſtantly atteſted the fact, of which he had been an ocular witneſs, to a neighbouring magiſtrate, who immediately ordered the cannibal to be brought before him, when the malefactor, on his firſt examination, confeſſed the whole truth, and declared that he murdered, of young and old, no leſs a number than ſixteen. He was ſentenced to be broken upon the wheel alive."

GOSPORT, Auguſt 28. Sunday evening, John Wilkes, Eſq; came to this town, and the next day ſet out for Southampton.---Monday was ſent away in the London wagon, a beautiful young tyger, and a remarkably ſo all cow, brought home in the Weazle ſloop from the coaſt of Guinea.---Wedneſday arrived at Spithead the Rainbow, from the coaſt of Guinea, but laſt from Jamaica. She brings word, that the Boyne ſailed for England the ſame day ſhe came away, and the Modeſte was to ſail the week following.-----Thurſday the Saliſbury, homeward-bound Eaſt-Indiaman, from China, ſailed from St. Helena's for the Thames. She had ſprung her mainmaſt, and damaged her rudder.---Thurſday the Aſia (a guardſhip) was paid ſix months pay.----The Cruiſer ſloop expects every hour to ſail for America.----Orders are received, for the Belliqueux, an old French ſhip, to be had into dock, and tore up.------Remain at Spithead, eight guardſhips, and the Rainbow, Weazle, Endeavour, and Cruiſer ſloops.

SALISBURY, Auguſt 31. A letter from the Iſle of Wight, ſays, "We have been very gay this laſt fortnight, by the arrival of John Wilkes, and David Garrick, Eſqrs. who came together from Portſmouth, and were here on a viſit to Mr. Fitzmaurice, at Knightly, who gave a public entertainment on the occaſion."

Extract of a letter from Poole, Auguſt 26.

"Laſt week arrived here John Wilkes, Eſq; and was received with every mark of reſpect due to ſuch a worthy patriot. The acclamations of the populace to Wilkes and Liberty were inceſſant; and a very ſplendid ball was to have been in the evening, but the ſpeedy departure of Mr. Wilkes put a ſtop to it, as it was intended in honour to him.-----The port great-guns continued firing, and our bells ringing, till he left the town."

October 8. We hear from Cambridge, that on Tuesday last, at the training there, the companies of artillery (with field pieces) and militia, commanded by Captain Gardner and Lieutenant Thatcher, performed a mock battle, under the inspection of the Honourable Major General Brattle. The companies divided, one detachment went off to some distance and entrenched themselves: Upon which the remainder marched to besiege them: An engagement then began, and was carried on in a very regular manner by marchings, counter-marchings, retreatings, ambushing and attacking, with cannon and small-arms, until the assailants took the entrenchment, and setting fire to their works blew it up. The performances were well-pleasing to a great number of spectators.

October 19. Yesterday arrived Captain Hammet, from St. Croix; his vessel was drove ashore there in the late hurricane, but got off again without much damage.

Captain Jarvis, in a sloop belonging to this place, was also drove ashore there, and the vessel lost.

Extract of a Letter from St. Eustatia, September 10, 1772.

"My last ended with the distresses and calamities of these islands, and the general joy by an arrival from Philadelphia.---- This morning a vessel from St. Thomas's arrived, and brings accounts of the dismal scene there, most of their houses blown down, 24 sail on shore, and the whole coasts of the Virgin Islands filled with wrecks of stranded vessels.---Two vessels, one at St. Croix, of 18,000 pieces of eight value; another at St. Thomas's, valued at 9000 pieces of eight. A schooner belonging here, is totally lost on Crab Island. Two of the ships and a brig from this road, are got into St. Thomas's and St. Croix, dismasted. These went out early.----And in the whole, at St. Thomas's, seven vessels are got in, all dismasted; one is Captain Dennison, of Cape-Ann. I can hear of no others belonging to New-England; I fear their fate. Captain Edgar and Captain Bray, of Cape-Ann, put out of St. Martin's; neither of whom have been since heard of: I fear they are among the stranded vessels on the Virgins."

Extract of a letter from Bristol, July 21, 1772.

"I rejoice at the noble spirit that prevails in your assemblies. They rightly judge, that if they yield to arbitrary impositions, and give up their Charter-Rights in one instance, though of smaller importance, they may in others, and those of greater moment. There is no end to Concessions, when once begun. The prerogative men will pick you feather after feather, till they have left you naked. Wise patriots will guard against the very first encroachments. I wish our patriots of this side the water had been so wise and honest, but we are already chained, and alas! too many among us are proud of their fetters, because they are of gold. While our civil Craftsmen are extending prerogative and court influence, our ecclesiastical Craftsmen are labouring to strengthen the fabric of church-authority, which of late indeed received a violent shock, but by their prudent care, it passed off without doing any material damage. You have heard no doubt of the fate of the Clergy's petition against subscription, and by this time probably the similar fate of the Dissenter's petition. This, though it passed triumphantly through the House of Commons, was in the House of Lords stifled by the Bishop's lawn sleeves. Why so many of the lay-lords, who were in principle friends to religious liberty, should concur with the Bishops, may be made a question. If it is, Lord Denbigh can answer it, who being asked, how he came to vote against the Dissenters petition, thus (as we are told) replied "The Bishops are very complaisant to us on certain occasions, and we thought, we must return the compliment." Their reverences were never so severely sweated in the House, as on this occasion, by Lord Chatham, who, 'tis said, spoke nobly in favour of the Dissenters. In answer to some things, that one of them said on principle, he thus addressed the bench, "and what, right reverend fathers, are your principles? Your articles are calvinistical, your liturgy is papistical, and your sermons are arminian. What then are your principles, right reverend father?

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Island) October 26.

Extract of a letter from London.

"Perhaps it may give pleasure to -----, to inform him, that our friend Mr. Marchant has, in a great measure, succeeded in the business that brought him to England. I have no doubt myself, but that the money due to the colony of Rhode-Island, from the government here, will be paid the next session of parliament, and which will be entirely owing to the assiduity and spirit, with which he has conducted the affair. Had it not been for this, I am well informed from a friend of mine, connected with administration, it would have lain over without any settlement made, or grant issued.----However it had terminated, our friend has done the colony much honour."

NEW-YORK, November 2.

Between twelve and one o'clock last Friday night, they had a most surprizing gust of wind at Newark, in New-Jersey, attended with a very heavy rain, by which the inhabitants of that place have lost more than 500 apple trees, besides many of their buildings have suffered much, particularly the dwelling-houses of Isaac Ogden, Esq; Mr. Timothy Johnston, Mr. Samuel and Mr. Elias Baldwin. The gust happened on the change of the wind, and its width was supposed not to be more than thirty [illegible].

Yesterday arrived here Captain Gardiner, in 25 days from St. [illegible]'s, and informs, that the late hurricane had done as [illegible] at that island, and at St. Christophers.

PHILADELPHIA, October 28.

Extract of a letter from London, August 27.

"You may hug yourself that you are settled in Philadelphia, and not in London, as the distress among the Merchants and Traders, in this city, is beyond conception:---Capital houses are breaking every day, and nobody knows whose turn will be next, so that all confidence, between man and man, is at an end; and, when it will be restored, God only knows: To explain this matter a little, I must remind you, that the chief part of the trade of this city is carried on upon credit, and that paper of various denominations is employed to supply the place of money; this paper credit has been carried too far, both by persons of property, and those of none; and this circulation was got beyond all bounds, as the Bank was very free to discount to any amount, on what they called good paper; but when Fordyce, the Banker, blew up, it was then discovered what an immense chain of circulation was carried on; and a great part of it without any solid foundation: The Scotch Banks, in particular, had issued an amazing sum in paper, which, tho' secured in some sort by great landed estates, yet could not be discharged in any reasonable time, and they depended on the Bank of England for their currency: The Bank, alarmed by these discoveries, were determined to stop their hands, and for a while no paper could be discounted; and, even to this time, they discount very sparingly:---This refusal of the Bank put the whole city into convulsions; people were stopping every day, and many of them finished their lives à l'Anglois, as the French term it:----One house, by this means, overset another, and many solid houses were obliged to demand time, because they could not discharge their paper at so short a warning. I have been something tedious in this description, but I could not, off hand, bring it into less compass, and I thought you would wish to have this matter investigated."

Sunday last arrived here, from New-York, his Excellency William Tryon, Governor of that Province.

Extract of a letter from Captain Basden, late Master of the sloop Patty, dated Virginia, October 7.

"I sailed from St. Christophers for Philadelphia, the 7th ult. and am very sorry to inform you, that on the 26th, in latitude 37, 10, long. 75, in 12 fathom water, standing off shore to the S. Eastward, the wind about E. N. E. in the morning, between 6 and 7 o'clock, and blowing very hard, I was under my balance main and fore-sail, with the bonnets off, saw a ship to the windward, coming down before the wind toward us, as if intending to speak us; when she came within a mile of us, they clewed up their mizen top-sail and foretop-sail, drew away down right across our fore foot, and ran on board of us, the ship then going at the rate of 8 or 9 knots, it blowing very hard, and a very high sea, she broke off our bowsprit close by the stem, and did us other damage, which occasioned us all hands to quit the sloop and take to the ship, to save our lives, having on board said sloop at that time about 700 Half-Johannes's, and two Negro boys, which I could not get out of the vessel, and we with great difficulty got into the ship, leaving every thing on board said sloop, but the cloaths on our backs, which were very trifling. It proved to be the ship Peters, Captain Thomas Lang, from Glasgow for Virginia, out 10 weeks: I entreated the Captain, to stay by the sloop till such time as we might see whether she sunk or swam, or till the weather was moderate, that we might endeavour to get out the money, negroes, and other things of value; but he said he would not stay at any rate, but make the best of his way into Virginia. I then offered to give him any thing he would ask in reason, if he would stay by the vessel, till the weather was moderate; but he refused, made the best of his way, and was out of sight of the sloop in less than half an hour, and about five o'clock in the afternoon arrived at Portsmouth, in Virginia, where we immediately engaged a vessel or two, to go in search of the sloop as soon as the weather would permit, which was not till two days after. I have entered a regular protest against the Captain and ship, as every person here thought them liable to make the damages good, if they were able, and every step is taken towards recovering the loss and damages in said sloop. I would have staid by the sloop, notwithstanding she was so much hurt, if it had been weather for a boat to have lived on the water, but it blowing hard, and a high sea going, rendered it impossible for us to have saved our lives in any boat. We were under so small sail, that we could not have got out of the ship's way, even if I had known they intended to run me down."

By Captain Souder, from Georgia, which place he left the 7th instant, we learn, that a brig, Captain Oliver, from thence for the Bay of Honduras, foundered three days after she left that port; the Captain and part of the Crew, with a women passenger, got safe back two days before he sailed; but three of the men, who got into a small skiff, were missing.

RUN-AWAY from the subscriber's plantation, about the sixteenth of February last, a sensible, well-made, negro fellow, named GEORGE, about 30 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, he was lately the property of the estate of Mrs. Hemill, deceased, and is well known in Charles-Town, and Christ-Church parish.——

TWENTY POUNDS currency reward will be paid, and all reasonable charges, to any person that will deliver him to Mr. John Dawson, in Charles-Town, or to the subscriber at Dorchester; also a farther reward will be given to any one that will give information by whom he is harboured, if by a white person, Fifty Pounds, to be paid on conviction of the offender. RICHARD WALTER.

HUGH SWINTON,

INFORMS his Friends, that he still continues the FACTORAGE BUSINESS, and will be much obliged to them for the Sale of their Crops.

HE has for SALE, a Negro MAN, that has been used to a Boat, and is acquainted with the Coast and Rivers; likewise a Canoe built Boat, Thirty-seven Feet long, and Six and an Half Feet wide.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subscriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years past, have thereby introduced it to Business..... He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindness to him, as it was very industriously insinuated, that Rice would not sell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himself all his Friends are fully so too, that their Crops landed in large or small Parcels, will sell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and sell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooses to decline that Business, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will still land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he shall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all possible Dispatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is sure there are none preferable to them in Town in those Respects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more secure from Fire; and 'tis almost impossible for a Barrel of Rice to be lost or stolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as use his Wharf constantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:---No prudent Planter but must be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmost Consequence to him, as many, for these three Years past, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) disposed of very much against their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is sure has been the Case, particularly this Year several Times, notwithstanding the Shortness of the Crop.

Messrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themselves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will transact their Business on his Wharf.---To these Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend such of his Friends who are not otherwise engaged.

Christopher Gadsden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for such Parcels of Rice as they purchase at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT they continue the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, (on the usual Terms) and for the Conveniency of good Storage, will transact it on Captain GADSDEN'S Wharf, where they desire those of their Friends that it may be agreeable to, will Order such Goods as they shall direct to their Care, being convinced that they will sell as well there as at any other Place in Charles-Town. Constant Attendance will also be given at their other COMPTING-HOUSE on the Bay.----Their Friends will be supplied with proper Boats, agreeable to their Orders; and they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favors, by a steady Attention to their Employers Interest, especially as they are determined to confine themselves to the FACTORAGE BUSINESS only; and they assure their Friends that they are not in any wise interested in Captain GADSDEN'S Stores, so that whenever they shall think it prudent to Store for a better Market, it must be solely with a View to their Friends Interest.

N. B. Wanted to attend on said WHARF, a Person well qualified and recommended.

NICHOLAS LANGFORD, Bookseller,

N. B. Some good black Leather Trunks, cheap.

BOB, late Waiter at the CAROLINA COFFEE-HOUSE, in Birchin Lane, most respectfully begs Leave to acquaint his Friends, and the Public in general, that he has now opened a

New CAROLINA, GEORGIA, FLORIDA, and PENNSYLVANIA COFFEE-HOUSE,

(formerly called Cole's and Greenland)

He is artful and sensible, and will endeavour to ship himself as a seaman; all masters of vessels are therefore hereby cautioned not to carry him off the province. ADDITION to the SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE, and COUNTRY JOURNAL

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1772. [Printed by Charles Crouch, in Elliott-ſtreet.]

From the BOSTON GAZETTE, and COUNTRY JOURNAL, of October 26, 1772.

Meſſieurs PRINTERS,

WE are told by thoſe who are in the Cabinet, that Lord D-------- upon entering into his new department, was induced to write a Letter of Compliment to Mr. H-------, wherein he aſſures his Ex-----y that he highly approves of his conduct.---He expreſſes his opinion that his Majeſty has a right to provide for the ſupport of his Governor, and other officers of this province.---He is concerned that the Houſe of Repreſentatives ſhould contend this point, but hopes however that they will make proviſion for the repair of the province houſe at the next ſeſſion of the General Aſſembly.---If they ſhould refuſe this, he acquaints his E-------y that it will be made the object of miniſterial attention. And he particularly expreſſes his ſatisfaction to find that his Majeſty's C------l have ſo far adhered to the meaſures of Government as not to join with the Houſe in oppoſing the independency of the Governor; which ſeems to be conſidered of as much importance by the Britiſh Miniſter on the one hand, as by the People of this Province on the other. If the above account is to be depended upon as a tranſcript of his Lordſhip's ſentiments, the expectations of thoſe who hoped the preſent change of men would produce a change of meaſures in America will be diſappointed. His Lordſhip may indeed be a better Man than Lord Hillſborough; and may be diſpoſed as far as ſhall be in his power, to relax the rigour of miniſterial tyranny over the colonies. In this province in particular, ſome ſeverities may be abated; but no alteration will be made ſubſtantially for the better; I mean from that quarter, till there is a thorough change of the Adminiſtration. The TRIBUTE will ſtill be extorted from us; and till his Lordſhip looks more critically into the Charters and other Inſtitutions of the Colonies, and more deliberately conſiders the nature of a free Government, whether chartered or not, he may ſtill think that his Majeſty has a right to provide for the ſupport of his Governor, and other officers, out of ſuch a tribute thus extorted from the people.--- We may ſtill have MASTERS ſet over us, tho' perhaps milder Maſters, inſtead of conſtitutional Governors; and his Majeſty's C------l of this Province may ſtill be flattered as the friends of Government, for refuſing, when called upon by an honeſt Houſe of Repreſentatives, to add their weight, and the importance they derive from the people, to the ſcale of oppoſition to ſuch tyranny. All this may be; but the people will alſo ſtill judge for themſelves. They will eſtimate Miniſters and all great men, not according to names or titles or former connections, but according to their preſent ſentiments, and preſent meaſures. And when thoſe who have been their profeſſed advocates ſhall become their oppreſſors; when thoſe whoſe duty it is to protect them, ſhall continue to oppreſs them; when the meaſure of injuries and provocations ſhall be filled up, they may at length ſee their way clear to make their appeal to HIM, who ſcanneth the actions of the Great and the Small, and judgeth righteous Judgment.

L.

Meſſieurs PRINTERS,

I CANNOT but be pleaſed with the apparent uneaſineſs and diſſatisfaction of this people, on the report of the Judges receiving their ſalaries from home; every man of conſideration muſt reſent this meaſure as impreſſing the laſt ſeal to the charter of ſlavery; amidſt all the triumphs of deſpotic power, we eſteemed the ſacred depoſit of law, as a ſanctuary not to be violated: If the report is true, we can have no reſource, but a fearful looking for of judgment; unleſs by a ſeaſonable exertion we ward off the impending ruin.

LORD CLARENDON, that warm vindicator of the principles of the Tories, in ſpeaking of the various cauſes which introduced the troubles of thoſe days, mentions the behaviour of the Judges and Attornies as one principal ſource of the national calamity. "It is very obſervable, (ſays he) that in the wiſdom of former times, when the prerogative went higheſt, very ſeldom any Judge or Lawyer of reputation was called upon to aſſiſt in an act of power; the Crown well knowing the moment of keeping thoſe the objects of reverence and veneration of the people; and that though it might ſometimes make ſallies upon them by the prerogative, yet the law ſhould keep the people from any invaſion of it, and that the King ſhould never ſuffer, whilſt the law and Judges were looked upon by the ſubject as the aſylum of their liberties and ſecurity." The wiſdom of the preſent Adminiſtration, on the contrary ſeems totally directed to render the Sovereign obnoxious to his people, and the ſhield of M--j---y ſeems never to be uſed, but to ward danger from the boſoms of wretches who are ſtand ripening for hard-earned deſtruction. The character of a Judge ſhould be as immaculate as that of Cæſar's Empreſs; the idea of a ſalary independent of the people among whom they are the oracles of the law; and that ſalary received from the hands of prerogative durante beneplacito is a profanation of the character of a juſt Judge, and neceſſarily renders them obnoxious to the ſuſpicions and reproaches of the people.

I have chearfully ſubſcribed to a petition for a Town-Meeting--- I ſhould eſteem myſelf happy, ſhould it be a full one, ſhould it be a determined one; the conſideration of this recent abuſe muſt neceſſarily excite our deteſtation of the reſt: If the people would lay the ax to the root of the tree, and ſleep no longer on the boſom of deſtruction. The influence of your example, my brethren! may produce a glorious effect, we find innumerable inſtances on record; no ſooner does a general ſpirit begin to prevail in the capital, than it immediately diffuſes itſelf to the remoteſt parts of the government: The reaſon is very obvious: The inhabitants of the metropolis may naturally be ſuppoſed to be better acquainted with public meaſures, than thoſe who live at a greater diſtance; and conſequently better qualified to judge whether thoſe meaſures are likely to prejudice or promote the intereſt of their country: Our ſituation is indeed critical, may wiſdom and a proper portion of ſpirit govern the debates of the Town, and may the Province which ſhares in the diſtreſs, be ſeaſonably awakened. What language can poſſibly expreſs our complaints, our reſentments? "A foreign power enters in arms, and forces a people, free and governed by their own laws, to receive thoſe, which it impoſes with fixed bayonets. What would the Engliſh ſay, if the King of France ſhould come at the head of an hundred thouſand men to impoſe laws upon England? Would he meet with a favourable reception from that nation, ſo jealous of its rights and liberties? Would they not ſay to him, after throwing a few barrels of powder in his face, "Sir why do you meddle with us? have you any thing to do here! You are no Legiſlator of ours. Show your deputies at home if you will, but in God's name leave us to enjoy our Liberties."

ECCHO.

The following is one of the Petitions to the Selectmen of this Town, requeſting a Meeting of the Freeholders and Inhabitants, for their Conſideration on a Report which if true, threatens the Extinction of all Ideas of Liberty and Property in America.

BOSTON, October 14, 1772.

GENTLEMEN,

WE take the liberty of addreſſing you at this time, to deſire you would as ſoon as may be, call a Meeting of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of this town, to enquire into the truth of a report which has been prevalent of late; and if it ſhall be found true, to deliberate, conſult and determine, what meaſures are proper to be taken by the Town on ſo very alarming an occaſion.

The report is, that ſtipends are affixed by order of the Crown, to the offices of the Juſtices of the Superiour Court of Judicature of this province. By this eſtabliſhment, they are made wholly dependant on the Crown, while the people have not the leaſt check upon them. Such a judiciary conſtitution, the people of Great-Britain will not ſuffer; nor is it in our opinion to be tollerated by any free people. Such a dependence on the Crown, more eſpecially while the Judges hold their places during its pleaſure, there is reaſon to expect, will pervert the Judgment of men, who might otherwiſe be unbiaſſed, and poiſon the ſtreams of Juſtice.

In all matters depending between the undue prerogative of the Crown, and the liberties of the people, what are we to look for, but a ſtrict conformity of the Judges, not to the juſtice of the cauſe, but the inclination of a Miniſter. In every caſe, the man that ſhall honeſtly oppoſe the meaſures of a corrupt Adminiſtration, muſt expect to feel the reſentment of ſuch an Adminiſtration in the deciſion of the Judges.

It is impoſſible for us at preſent to enumerate the evils which muſt be the conſequence of ſuch an appointment.

This Town has long been ſtruggling to prevent the miſeries which its wiſdom has foreſeen. If this eſtabliſhment takes place, we ſhall then ſee the completion of the ruin of our Liberties: Our Monies extorted from us by violence, and appropriated for the ſupport of an executive, without the leaſt dependance upon the people.

We wiſh the preſent Judges would ſhow an Example of public Virtue, in refuſing to accept of ſuch ſtipends.

We conceive that it is incumbent on this People, to take a Matter ſo deeply intereſting to them into the cloſeſt Attention; to ſpeak their Minds with Freedom, and to come to ſuch Concluſion as the Importance of it demands.

We therefore requeſt that you would call a Meeting for the purpoſes aforementioned, and are with due reſpect, gentlemen, your friends and fellow citizens.

Signed by One Hundred and Six.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 29.

Yeſterday the freeholders and other inhabitants of this town, met at Faneuil-Hall, to enquire into the grounds of a report that prevails, that ſalaries are appointed to the Judges of the Superior Court of Judicature, of this province, whereby they are rendered independent of the grants of the General Aſſembly for their ſupport, contrary to ancient and invariable uſage; and to take ſuch meaſures thereupon, as might be proper upon ſo alarming an occaſion.

After the cooleſt and moſt candid debate and deliberation, the town came into a very full vote (there being only one hand held up againſt it) to prepare a decent and reſpectful meſſage to the Governor, for the firſt purpoſe aforeſaid. And in the afternoon ſuch a meſſage was prepared, ſetting forth, that the report above mentioned had ſpread a general alarm among all conſiderate perſons who had heard of it, in town and country; ſuch an eſtabliſhment being conſidered as tending rapidly to compleat that ſyſtem of ſlavery, which originated in the Houſe of Commons of Great-Britain, aſſuming a power and authority to give and grant the monies of the Colonies without their conſent, and againſt their repeated remonſtrances. This draft of a meſſage was freely canvaſſed and finally accepted by a very full vote, nemine contradicente, and thereupon William Phillips, Eſq; the honourable James Otis, Eſq; Mr. Samuel Adams, Dr. Joſeph Warren, Dr. Benjamin Church, Mr. Timothy Newell, and Colonel Thomas Marſhall, were appointed to wait on his Excellency with the ſame.

Then the meeting was adjourned until Friday (To-morrow) at ten of the clock in the forenoon, to receive his Excellency's anſwer, and to proceed on ſuch further meaſures as may be judged proper. It is hoped there will alſo be a full meeting at the adjournment. It is obſervable that throughout the whole debates, the citizens concerned in it manifeſted the greateſt good humour and patience with each other, the whole town being deeply ſenſible of the importance of the matter before them.

It is confidently ſaid without contradiction, that his Excellency the Governor has received certain advice from Sir Francis Bernard, of Nettleham, that the Judges ſalaries are ſtand, and that the Baronet glories in the hand he has had in promoting this manœuvre, "for the good of the province."

We hear that the meſſage from the town is to be delivered this forenoon to the Governor.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER 17.

On Tueſday the 6th inſtant, was held in this city, the anniverſary meeting of the Corporation for the relief of the widows and children of clergymen, in the communion of the church of England in America: And on the Thurſday following, the Corporation, having previouſly aſſembled at the Preſident's houſe, went in proceſſion to Chriſt-Church, where an excellent ſermon upon the occaſion, was preached by the Rev. Preſident, Dr. Peters, from Rom. xii. 6, 7, 8. The audience were entertained with ſeveral ſolemn pieces of muſic, well adapted, and performed with great judgment. The generous collection made in the church, for the benevolent purpoſes of this humane and truly charitable inſtitution, amounted to near 130l. The Honourable Richard Penn, Eſq; Governor of this Province, and his Excellency William Franklin, Eſq; Governor of New-Jerſey, members of this ſociety, with a large number of gentlemen, clergy, and ladies of the firſt diſtinction, were pleaſed to honour the ſolemnity with their preſence. The whole ſervice was conducted with the greateſt propriety, and gave univerſal ſatisfaction.

OCTOBER 20. With Captain Cunningham, arrived here from Antigua, ſome paſſengers, Colonel Leſlie, and Lieutenant Elliſton, of the 64th regiment.

It is ſaid the government on the Ohio has taken place, and that Colonel Mercer comes out Lieutenant Governor, and Surveyor General of the new government.

SAVANNAH, (Georgia) NOVEMBER 11.

Monday laſt the election of Members to ſerve in the General Aſſembly of this province began, when Noble Wimberly Jones, Archibald Bulloch, Joſeph Bryan, and William Young, Eſqrs. were choſen for the town of Savannah; and yeſterday David Zubly, Eſq; was choſen for the village of Ebeno.

ST. JOHN'S (Antigua) SEPTEMBER 23.

Mr. Iſaac Harvey is returned from Barbuda, and we are ſorry to inform the public, that the brigantine which was driven aſhore there, proves to be his veſſel; ſhe had near a thouſand barrels of bread and flour on board——not a ſoul ſaved that belonged to her.

OCTOBER 3. Yeſterday arrived here the brigantine Mary, Leacraft, from Philadelphia, with bread and flour, and the ſchooner Harry, Adams, from Barbadoes, with corn.

OCTOBER 7. We hear from St. Vincents, that on Monday night laſt, the Carraibs burnt the works and dwelling-houſe of Andrew Bruce, Eſq; and on the Wedneſday following, burnt the dwelling-houſe and caſhew of John Le Crew, Eſq; they alſo took a detached party of the 32d regiment, conſiſting of a corporal and four men, whom they killed. A ſcouting party of Carraibs ſome time before this had nearly fallen in with and taken General Leyburne priſoner.

On Thurſday morning laſt, one of the tranſports arrived at St. Vincents, with a party of the 31ſt regiment from St. Auguſtine in Eaſt Florida, and the reſt are hourly expected, ſo that a general attack on theſe deſperadoes may be every day looked for.

The militia here are under the greateſt hardſhips, on account of the fatigues of their military duty.

BRIDGE-TOWN, (Barbados) SEPTEMBER 7.

On Thurſday the 31 inſtant, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, died his Excellency William Spry, Eſq; our late worthy Governor, and the next evening (notwithſtanding his deſire to be privately buried) his honour the Preſident, willing to ſhew every mark of reſpect due to his memory, having given the neceſſary orders, accordingly the life-guards, and the town companies of the royal regiment of foot-guards attended the ſolemnity, the flags were hoiſted half-maſt high, minute guns fired from the moving of the corpſe to its interment in St. Michael's church-yard, and every other funeral honour paid that had been done to former Governors.

His Excellency is ſucceeded in the Government by the Honourable Samuel Rous, Eſq; Preſident of his Majeſty's Council.

Yeſterday at a meeting of the Honourable Council and Aſſembly, his Honour the Preſident was pleaſed to make the following Speech to both Houſes:

"Gentlemen of the Council,

"Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

"I thought it my duty to ſay ſomething to you on the melancholy occaſion which gives riſe to this meeting. I ſhould have addreſſed you once more in your united capacities, from this ſeat with pleaſure, if I had been called to it by the return of our late worthy Governor to his native land, crowned with thoſe honours and rewards which were juſtly due to his merit. I regret that it has happened otherwiſe; nor do I fail to ſympathiſe with you on the ſorrowful event.

"I reſume the Government of my native country with every expectation of acquitting myſelf with honour: I am animated to this declaration from a conſciouſneſs of the moſt upright intentions. I will not, nay, I cannot, doubt of a happy adminiſtration, when I look round and behold the preſent legiſlature of my country compoſed of ſuch men, whoſe moderation and harmony preſage the utmoſt that my wiſhes can ſuggeſt.

"Gentlemen, The tranquility which we enjoyed under the mild and equitable conduct of our late Governor, leaves me little to recommend to your attention.

"The Mole-head which I ſee already begun, affords me indeed an opportunity of aſſuring you of my readineſs to promote the proſecution of it by every means in my power. Suffer me to add that the accompliſhment of this work will ſecure to you the acknowledgments of every commercial inhabitant; nor will poſterity fail to receive with gratitude the advantageous bequeſt."

Brought to the WORK-HOUSE.

RUN-AWAY from the subscriber's plantation, about the sixteenth of February last, a sensible, well-made, negro fellow, named GEORGE, about 30 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, he was lately the property of the estate of Mrs. Hemill, deceased, and is well known in Charles-Town, and Christ-Church parish.——

TWENTY POUNDS currency reward will be paid, and all reasonable charges, to any person that will deliver him to Mr. John Dawson, in Charles-Town, or to the subscriber at Dorchester; also a farther reward will be given to any one that will give information by whom he is harboured, if by a white person, Fifty Pounds, to be paid on conviction of the offender. RICHARD WALTER.

HUGH SWINTON,

INFORMS his Friends, that he still continues the FACTORAGE BUSINESS, and will be much obliged to them for the Sale of their Crops.

HE has for SALE, a Negro MAN, that has been used to a Boat, and is acquainted with the Coast and Rivers; likewise a Canoe built Boat, Thirty-seven Feet long, and Six and an Half Feet wide.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subscriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years past, have thereby introduced it to Business.---He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindness to him, as it was very industriously insinuated, that Rice would not sell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himself all his Friends are fully so too, that their Crops landed in large or small Parcels, will sell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and sell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooses to decline that Business, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will still land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he shall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all possible Dispatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is sure there are none preferable to them in Town in those Respects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more secure from Fire; and 'tis almost impossible for a Barrel of Rice to be lost or stolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as use his Wharf constantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:---No prudent Planter but must be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmost Consequence to him, as many, for these three Years past, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) disposed of very much against their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is sure has been the Case, particularly this Year several Times, notwithstanding the Shortness of the Crop.

Messrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themselves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will transact their Business on his Wharf.---To these Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend such of his Friends who are not otherwise engaged.

Christopher Gadsden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depend on not wanting STORAGE for such Parcels of Rice as they purchase at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT their FRIENDS,

THAT they continue the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, (on the usual Terms) and for the Conveniency of good Storage, will transact it on Captain GADSDEN's Wharf, where they desire those of their Friends that it may be agreeable to, will Order such Goods as they shall direct to their Care, being convinced that they will sell as well there as at any other Place in Charles-Town. Constant Attendance will also be given at their other COMPTING-HOUSE on the Bay.---Their Friends will be supplied with proper Boats, agreeable to their Orders; and they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favors, by a steady Attention to their Employers Interest, especially as they are determined to confine themselves to the FACTORAGE BUSINESS only; and they assure their Friends that they are not in any wise interested in Captain GADSDEN's Stores, so that whenever they shall think it prudent to Store for a better Market, it must be solely with a View to their Friends Interest.

N. B. Wanted to attend on said WHARF, a Person well qualified and recommended.

NICHOLAS LANGFORD, Bookseller,

INFORMS his Friends and the Public, that he has just received by the London, Captain Curling, and Britannia, Captain Ball, a large Addition to his

NEAT COLLECTION of BOOKS,

Including many which are much in REQUEST.

He has also received some very elegant Silver mounted Swords, and Cutteaus de Chasse, of the newest Patterns, and neatest Workmanship, with Morocco Belts, Woodstock Gloves, and Gentlemens Beaver Hats, some in the highest Taste, with very rich Gold spangled Buttons and Loops.---All which, with STATIONARY, particulary superfine Writing Paper of the various Sizes, Dutch Quills, and Gibson's superfine Henry the Eighth's CARDS, he will sell for Cash or short Credit, at very reasonable Prices.

N. B. Some good black Leather Trunks, cheap.

BOB, late Waiter at the CAROLINA COFFEE-HOUSE, in Birchin Lane, most respectfully begs Leave to acquaint his Friends, and the Public in general, that he has now opened a

New CAROLINA, GEORGIA, FLORIDA, and PENNSYLVANIA COFFEE-HOUSE,

(formerly called Cole's and Greenland)

ADDITION to the SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE, and COUNTRY JOURNAL

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1772. [Printed by Charles Crouch, in Elliott-ſtreet.]

From the BOSTON GAZETTE, and COUNTRY JOURNAL, of October 26, 1772.

Meſſieurs PRINTERS,

WE are told by thoſe who are in the Cabinet, that Lord D-------- upon entering into his new department, was induced to write a Letter of Compliment to Mr. H------, wherein he aſſures his Ex-----y that he highly approves of his conduct.---He expreſſes his opinion that his Majeſty has a right to provide for the ſupport of his Governor, and other officers of this province.---He is concerned that the Houſe of Repreſentatives ſhould contend this point, but hopes however that they will make proviſion for the repair of the province houſe at the next ſeſſion of the General Aſſembly.---If they ſhould refuſe this, he acquaints his E-------y that it will be made the object of miniſterial attention. And he particularly expreſſes his ſatisfaction to find that his Majeſty's C------l have ſo far adhered to the meaſures of Government as not to join with the Houſe in oppoſing the independency of the Governor; which ſeems to be conſidered of as much importance by the Britiſh Miniſter on the one hand, as by the People of this Province on the other. If the above account is to be depended upon as a tranſcript of his Lordſhip's ſentiments, the expectations of thoſe who hoped the preſent change of men would produce a change of meaſures in America will be diſappointed. His Lordſhip may indeed be a better Man than Lord Hillſborough; and may be diſpoſed as far as ſhall be in his power, to relax the rigour of miniſterial tyranny over the colonies. In this province in particular, ſome ſeverities may be abated; but no alteration will be made ſubſtantially for the better; I mean from that quarter, till there is a thorough change of the Adminiſtration. The TRIBUTE will ſtill be extorted from us; and till his Lordſhip looks more critically into the Charters and other Inſtitutions of the Colonies, and more deliberately conſiders the nature of a free Government, whether chartered or not, he may ſtill think that his Majeſty has a right to provide for the ſupport of his Governor, and other officers, out of ſuch a tribute thus extorted from the people.---We may ſtill have MASTERS ſet over us, tho' perhaps milder Maſters, inſtead of conſtitutional Governors; and his Majeſty's C------l of this Province may ſtill be flattered as the friends of Government, for refuſing, when called upon by an honeſt Houſe of Repreſentatives, to add their weight, and the importance they derive from the people, to the ſcale of oppoſition to ſuch tyranny. All this may be; but the people will alſo ſtill judge for themſelves. They will eſtimate Miniſters and all great men, not according to names or titles or former connections, but according to their preſent ſentiments, and preſent meaſures. And when thoſe who have been their profeſſed advocates ſhall betray them; when thoſe whoſe duty it is to protect them, ſhall continue to oppreſs them; when the meaſure of injuries and provocations ſhall be filled up, they may at length ſee their way clear to make their appeal to HIM, who ſcanneth the actions of the Great and the Small, and judgeth righteous Judgment. L.

Meſſieurs PRINTERS,

I CANNOT but be pleaſed with the apparent uneaſineſs and diſſatisfaction of this people, on the report of the Judges receiving their ſalaries from home; every man of conſideration muſt reſent this meaſure as impreſſing the laſt ſeal to the charter of ſlavery; amidſt all the triumphs of deſpotic power, we eſteemed the ſacred depoſit of law, as a ſanctuary not to be violated: If the report is true, we can have no reſource, but a fearful looking for of judgment; unleſs by a ſeaſonable exertion we ward off the impending ruin.

LORD CLARENDON, that warm vindicator of the principles of the Tories, in ſpeaking of the various cauſes which introduced the troubles of thoſe days, mentions the behaviour of the Judges and Attornies as one principal ſource of the national calamity. "It is very obſerveable, (ſays he) that in the wiſdom of former times, when the prerogative went higheſt, very ſeldom any Judge or Lawyer of reputation was called upon to aſſiſt in an act of power; the Crown well knowing the moment of keeping thoſe the objects of reverence and veneration of the people; and that though it might ſometimes make ſallies upon them by the prerogative, yet the law ſhould keep the people from any invaſion of it, and that the King ſhould never ſuffer, whilſt the law and Judges were looked upon, by the ſubject as the aſſylum of their liberties and ſecurity." The wiſdom of the preſent Adminiſtration, on the contrary ſeems totally directed to render the Sovereign obnoxious to his people, and the ſhield of M--j---y ſeems never to be uſed, but to ward danger from the boſoms of wretches who are ſtand ripening for hard-earned deſtruction. The character of a Judge ſhould be as immaculate as that of Ceſar's Empreſs; the idea of a ſalary independent of the people among whom they are the oracles of the law; and that ſalary received from the hands of prerogative durante beneplacito is a profanation of the character of a juſt Judge, and neceſſarily renders them obnoxious to the ſuſpicions and reproaches of the people.

I have chearfully ſubſcribed to a petition for a Town-Meeting---I ſhould eſteem myſelf happy, ſhould it be a full one, ſhould it be a determined one; the conſideration of this recent abuſe muſt neceſſarily excite our deteſtation of the reſt; I wiſh the people would lay the ax to the root of the tree, and ſleep no longer on the boſom of deſtruction. The influence of your example my brethren! may produce a glorious effect, we find innumerable inſtances on record; no ſooner does a general ſpirit begin to prevail in the capital, than it immediately diffuſes itſelf to the remoteſt parts of the government: The reaſon is very obvious: The inhabitants of the metropolis may naturally be ſuppoſed to be better acquainted with public meaſures, than thoſe who live at a greater diſtance; and conſequently better qualified to judge whether thoſe meaſures are likely to prejudice or promote the intereſt of their country: Our ſituation is indeed critical, may wiſdom and a proper portion of ſpirit govern the debates of the Town, and may the Province which ſhares in the diſtreſs, be ſeaſonably awakened. What language can poſſibly expreſs our complaints, our reſentments? "A foreign power enters in arms, and forces a people, free and governed by their own laws, to receive thoſe, which it impoſes with fixed bayonets. What would the Engliſh ſay, if the King of France ſhould come at the head of an hundred thouſand men to impoſe laws upon England? Would he meet with a favourable reception from that nation, ſo jealous of its rights and liberties? Would they not ſay to him, after throwing a few barrels of powder in his face, "Sir why do you meddle with us? have you any thing to do here! You are no Legiſlator of ours. Show your deſpotiſm at home if you will, but in God's name leave us to enjoy our Liberties." ECCHO.

The following is one of the Petitions to the Selectmen of this Town, requeſting a Meeting of the Freeholders and Inhabitants, for their Conſideration on a Report which if true, threatens the Extinction of all Ideas of Liberty and Property in America.

BOSTON, October 14, 1772.

GENTLEMEN,

WE take the liberty of addreſſing you at this time, to deſire you would as ſoon as may be, call a Meeting of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of this town, to enquire into the truth of a report which has been prevalent of late; and if it ſhall be found true, to deliberate, conſult and determine, what meaſures are proper to be taken by the Town on ſo very alarming an occaſion.

The report is, that ſtipends are affixed by order of the Crown, to the offices of the Juſtices of the Superiour Court of Judicature of this province. By this eſtabliſhment, they are made wholly dependent on the Crown, while the people have not the leaſt check upon them. Such a judiciary conſtitution, the people of Great-Britain will not ſuffer; nor is it in our opinion to be tollerated by any free people. Such a dependence on the Crown, more eſpecially while the Judges hold their places during its pleaſure, there is reaſon to expect, will pervert the Judgment of men, who might otherwiſe be unbiaſſed, and poiſon the ſtreams of Juſtice.

In all matters depending between the undue prerogative of the Crown, and the liberties of the people, what are we to look for, but a ſtrict conformity of the Judges, not to the juſtice of the cauſe, but the inclination of a Miniſter. In every caſe, the man that ſhall honeſtly oppoſe the meaſures of a corrupt Adminiſtration, muſt expect to feel the reſentment of ſuch an Adminiſtration in the deciſion of the Judges.

It is impoſſible for us at preſent to enumerate the evils which muſt be the conſequence of ſuch an appointment.

This Town has long been ſtruggling to prevent the miſeries which its wiſdom has foreſeen. If this eſtabliſhment takes place, we ſhall then ſee the completion of the ruin of our Liberties: Our Monies extorted from us by violence, and appropriated for the ſupport of an executive, without the leaſt dependance upon the people.

We wiſh the preſent Judges would ſhow an Example of public Virtue, in refuſing to accept of ſuch ſtipends.

We conceive that it is incumbent on this People, to take a Matter ſo deeply intereſting to them into the cloſeſt Attention; to ſpeak their Minds with Freedom, and to come to ſuch Concluſion as the Importance of it demands.

We therefore requeſt that you would call a Meeting for the purpoſes aforementioned, and are with due reſpect, gentlemen, your friends and fellow citizens.

Signed by One Hundred and Six.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 29.

Yeſterday the freeholders and other inhabitants of this town, met at Faneuil-Hall, to enquire into the grounds of a report that prevails, that ſalaries are appointed to the Judges of the Superior Court of Judicature, of this province, whereby they are rendered independent of the grants of the General Aſſembly for their ſupport, contrary to ancient and invariable uſage; and to take ſuch meaſures thereupon, as might be proper upon ſo alarming an occaſion.

After the cooleſt and moſt candid debate and deliberation, the town came into a very full vote (there being only one hand held up againſt it) to prepare a decent and reſpectful meſſage to the Governor, for the firſt purpoſe aforeſaid. And in the afternoon ſuch a meſſage was prepared, ſetting forth, that the report above mentioned had ſpread a general alarm among all conſiderate perſons who had heard of it, in town and country; ſuch an eſtabliſhment being conſidered as tending rapidly to compleat that ſyſtem of ſlavery, which originated in the Houſe of Commons of Great-Britain, aſſuming a power and authority to give and grant the monies of the Colonies without their conſent, and againſt their repeated remonſtrances. This draft of a meſſage was freely canvaſſed and finally accepted by a very full vote, nemine contradicente, and thereupon William Phillips, Eſq; the honourable James Otis, Eſq; Mr. Samuel Adams, Dr. Joſeph Warren, Dr. Benjamin Church, Mr. Timothy Newell, and Colonel Thomas Marſhall, were appointed to wait on his Excellency with the ſame.

Then the meeting was adjourned until Friday (To-morrow) at ten of the clock in the forenoon, to receive his Excellency's anſwer, and to proceed to ſuch further meaſures as may be judged proper. It is hoped there will alſo be a full meeting at the adjournment. It is obſervable that throughout the whole debates, the citizens conſerned in it manifeſted the greateſt good humour and patience with each other, the whole town being deeply ſenſible of the importance of the matter before them.

It is confidently ſaid without contradiction, that his Excellency the Governor has received certain advice from Sir Francis Bernard, of Nettleham, that the Judges ſalaries are fixed, and that the Baronet glories in the hand he had had in promoting this manœuvre, "for the good of the province."

We hear that the meſſage from the town is to be delivered this forenoon to the Governor.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER 17.

On Tueſday the 6th inſtant, was held in this city, the anniverſary meeting of the Corporation for the relief of the widows and children of clergymen, in the communion of the church of England in America: And on the Thurſday following, the Corporation, having previouſly aſſembled at the Preſident's houſe, went in proceſſion to Chriſt-Church, where an excellent ſermon upon the occaſion, was preached by the Rev. Preſident, Dr. Peters, from Rom. xii. 6, 7, 8. The audience were entertained with ſeveral ſolemn pieces of muſic, well adapted, and performed with great judgment. The generous collection made in the church, for the benevolent purpoſes of this humane and truly charitable inſtitution, amounted to near 130l. The Honourable Richard Penn, Eſq; Governor of this Province, and his Excellency William Franklin, Eſq; Governor of New-Jerſey, members of this ſociety, with a large number of gentlemen, clergy, and ladies of the firſt diſtinction, were pleaſed to honour the ſolemnity with their preſence. The whole ſervice was conducted with the greateſt propriety, and gave univerſal ſatisfaction.

OCTOBER 26. With Captain Cunningham, arrived here from Antigua, came paſſengers, Colonel Leſlie, and Lieutenant Elliſton, of the 64th regiment.

It is ſaid the government on the Obio has taken place, and that Colonel Mercer comes out Lieutenant Governor, and Surveyor General of the new government.

SAVANNAH, (Georgia) NOVEMBER 11.

Monday laſt the election of Members to ſerve in the General Aſſembly of this province began, when Noble Wimberly Jones, Archibald Bulloch, Jonathan Bryan, and William Young, Eſqrs. were choſen for the town of Savannah; and yeſterday David Dubly, Eſq; was choſen for the village of Acton.

ST. JOHN'S (Antigua) SEPTEMBER 23.

Mr. Iſaac Harvey is returned from Berbuda, and we are ſorry to inform the public, that the brigantine which was driven aſhore there, proves to be his veſſel; ſhe had near a thouſand barrels of bread and flour on board——not a ſoul ſaved that belonged to her.

OCTOBER 3. Yeſterday arrived here the brigantine Mary, Lecraft, from Philadelphia, with bread and flour, and the ſchooner Harry, Adams, from Barbados, with corn.

OCTOBER 7. We hear from St. Vincents, that on Monday night laſt, the Carraibs burnt the works and dwelling-houſe of Andrew Bruce, Eſq; and on the Wedneſday following, burnt the dwelling-houſe and offices of John Le Crow, Eſq; they alſo took a detached party of the 32d regiment, conſiſting of a corporal and four men, whom they killed. A ſcouting party of Carraibs ſome time before this had nearly fallen in with and taken General Leyborne priſoner.

On Thurſday morning laſt, one of the tranſports arrived at St. Vincents, with a party of the 32d regiment from St. Auguſtine in Eaſt Florida, and the reſt are hourly expected, ſo that a general attack on thoſe deſperadoes may be every day looked for.

The militia here are under the greateſt hardſhips, on account of the fatigue of their military duty.

BRIDGE-TOWN, (Barbados) SEPTEMBER 7.

On Thurſday the 31 inſtant, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, died his Excellency William Spry, Eſq; our late worthy Governor; and the next evening (notwithſtanding his deſire to be privately buried) his honour the Preſident, willing to ſhew every mark of reſpect due to his memory, having given the neceſſary orders, accordingly the life-guards, and the town companies of the royal regiment of foot-guards attended the ſolemnity, the flags were hoiſted half-maſt high, minute guns fired from the moving of the corpſe to its interment in St. Michael's church-yard, and every other funeral honour paid that had been done to former Governors.

His Excellency is ſucceeded in the Government by the Honourable Samuel Rous, Eſq; Preſident of his Majeſty's Council.

Yeſterday at a meeting of the Honourable Council and Aſſembly, his Honour the Preſident was pleaſed to make the following Speech to both Houſes:

"Gentlemen of the Council,

"Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

"I thought it my duty to ſay ſomething to you on the melancholy occaſion which gives riſe to this meeting. I ſhould have addreſſed you once more in your united capacities, from this ſeat with pleaſure, if I had been called to it by the return of our late worthy Governor to his native land, crowned with thoſe honours and rewards which were juſtly due to his merit. I regret that it has happened otherwiſe; nor do I fail to ſympathiſe with you on the ſorrowful event.

"I reſume the Government of my native country with every expectation of acquitting myſelf with honour: I am animated to this declaration from a conſciouſneſs of the moſt upright intentions. I will not, nay, I cannot, doubt of a happy adminiſtration, when I look round and behold the preſent legiſlature of my country compoſed of ſuch men, whoſe moderation and harmony preſage the utmoſt that my wiſhes can ſuggeſt.

"Gentlemen, The tranquility which we enjoyed under the mild and equitable conduct of our late Governor, leaves me little to recommend to your attention.

"The Mole-head which I ſee already begun, affords me indeed an opportunity of aſſuring you of my readineſs to promote the proſecution of it by every means in my power. Suffer me to add that the accompliſhment of this work will ſecure to you the acknowledgments of every commercial inhabitant; nor will poſterity fail to receive with gratitude the advantageous bequeſt."

The proper Uſe in all the above Caſes, may be ſeen in the Directions given with each Bottle.

STOMACHIC LOZENGES. They ſtrengthen and fortify by their balſamic and nutritive Virtues, the tender Veſſels of the Stomach, help Digeſtion, and promote Chylification; they melt in the Mouth like Sugar, are of a moſt agreeable taſte, and fail not to correct the Breath, and the impure Exhalations of the Stomach.

Where alſo may be had,

JOYCE's GREAT AMERICAN BALSAM, extracted from the beſt Medicinal Herbs, &c. for the Cure of the following Diſorders, incident to human Nature; proved from Experience in New-York, Long-Iſland, and elſewhere, to equal, and rather exceed any Balſam, Eſſence, or Elixir, &c. exported from Europe here, for the ſeveral Diſorders hereafter mentioned.

For common green or freſh Wounds, it heals at once or twice dreſſing, by cloſing the Lips of the Wound, and laying on the Wound a Pledgit of Lint dipt in the Balſam. In Nervous Wounds, where the Blood Veſſels are divided, &c. it ſtops the Blood immediately, and heals by a few Applications. For the Cure of the moſt inveterate Ulcers, only waſh them and keep them clean, uſing firſt if there be any proud Fleſh, a common Cauſtick, to take the Excreſſence away, then apply the Balſam on Lint. If the Ulcers ſhould happen to be fiſtulous, inject by a Syringe, and after cloſe the Oriſice with a Pledgit dipt in the Balſam, and ſo repeat. There are Witneſſes undeniable of the Balſam alone curing a Fiſtula in Ano, now preſent in New-York: The Author of this Balſam, (under God) will engage to cure a Fiſtula in Ano, even if the Rectum is perforated, without Inciſion, except as much by a Lancet to make Way for Injection, and no more. For the Cure of Colds, attended with violent Coughing, Pains in the Breaſt, Inflammation in the Throat and Glands, Difficulty of Breathing, being obſtructed by tough viſcid Phlegm; by taking a Tea Spoonful of the Balſam, mixed with Sugar or Honey, it quickly cures, taken twice a Day, Morning faſting, and at Night going to Bed. It is exceeding good in all Manner of Swellings; for violent Falls or inward Bruiſes, nothing is better, for it ſcatters coadgulated Blood, and ſtops Blood that might be occaſioned by the inward Parts being hurt, or a Rexis of Veſſels inwardly. In the Cure of Pleuriſy, after Bleeding (where it is required) give a Tea Spoonful three Times a Day, in Sugar, and between Times now and then 20 or 30 Drops of ſpirituous Nitri dulcis, that is the ſweet Spirits of Nitre.---It cures Conſumptions in them that are not too far gone, except they paſs the Age of Fifty, by taking of it inwardly three Times a Day, a full Tea Spoonful mixt with Sugar or Honey, each Doſe.
